

Renteria

2001 Cabernet Sauvignon
Stag's Leap District
Napa Valley

Vineyard The Cabernet Sauvignon grapes for this wine came from the Baldacci Vineyard (also known as Brenda's Vineyard) in the Stags Leap District. It was planted in 1985 on St. George rootstock using Cabernet clone 2. The vines are planted in the old style of Napa Valley, with wider spacing and thus bigger vines. These vines have the advantage of producing many, small berried clusters which lead to more character in the wine. The yields are low at 3 tons per acre.

Tasting Notes The 2001 vintage will always be known for producing extraordinary wines in Napa Valley. Add a perfect vintage to the excellent growing conditions in Stags Leap and the resulting wines are delicious. The characteristic Stags Leap flavors are dark stone fruits and bramble berries. This berry aroma is especially present in the Renteria Cabernet. The mouth feel is also a classic Stags Leap—plush mid-palate with full, rich but soft, velvety tannins.
